New York, December 1.

Not Greater Ireland, but America.

To The New York Herald: Mgr. Lavelle in his sermon at St. Patrick's Cathedral spoke of the respect the world has for the Irish. They will lose that respect if they continue their riots and murders in Ireland and outrageous riots and mob attacks like that at the Union Club on Thanksgiving Day in New York.

They should know that other people of the Clilizen Arrested for Carrying a Sword Cane.

To The New York Herald: Not since the Union Club outrage has the true note been struck to awaken New Yorkers to action in meeting such outbreaks.

Do away with the Sullivan law and there will be no fear from ruffianism that makes an empty boast of the adage that a man's house is his castle. The law that snatched the sword cane from the bear of the Clilizen Arrested for Carrying a Sword Cane.
